

Do not modify NJ's Do Not Call list. I hate when people call me at home to try and sell me things. Only companies with an established business relationship that are calling to promote something or give something away should be allowed to call. (A good example would be the Casinos - I have a relationship and they give me things for free.)